Imugi's Sacred Ground, Idir

Memorialized
as the location where the Dragons first descended from the heavens,

it is said when Idr reaches the End of the World, beyond the Great Plains.

then Zphantar Via,
the path of Dragons,
will be opened.

Shin Wool

Which means that if Kiseki wishes to leave the world, the first step would be for him to come to Dier and move the Purification Chamber to the End of the World.

Back when the young Dragon

lost his eyes... he retreated to the Purification Fountain in hopes of subduing his emotions and reaching maturation.

As such, the Image managed to tap into his Pearl's power and use it without the Dragon's authorization.

Who divulged
the information to do such a thing? Who has been collaborating with the elders?

Additionally, I recall that I was supposed to be in the capital. Why did I awaken in Dorian?

I suppose the Dragon's presence here must mean

that she is dead...

Lady Karin,
the elders have received a summons.

It's not my daughter's invitation.

The epoch of the Imugi has been restored!

No longer must we endure a shameful exile in the confines of the forests and mountains.

We have, at last,
returned to our rightful position.

Even now,
the powerless humans
scurry about, fleeing as they ought.

For we shall subjugate
them, by any means,
until they are wrought with the greatest of despair.

In three months time, the young Dragon shall reach maturity.

If we had the Dragon Pearl's power, the humans will have been massacred before then.

Unlike the humans,
of whom only a scant number have been supplied with power,

the Imugi shall use the Dragon Pearl to bring about permanent cataclysmic changes.

The Udnk stand ready for war, modified for battle and ready to die as soldiers.

No longer bound to the forest and plains, they shall march forth without fear of their environment.

Even the great titans,
the Uram,
await the upheaval.

Naught shall hinder our path,

for the world shall irrefutably know to whom the authority of this world belongs!

If the Imugi should come to possess the Dragon Pearl,

Thus begins the great nightmare of the humans.

they will use it to eliminate the humans at a moment's notice.

the age of Mirage Beasts!

Speaking out at this point would be futile...

But,

will you let yourself
be swept along again,
not knowing how it will end?

100%

Failure

Failure.

Execute
intervention

Failure.

Set start point.

OK

Do you not think the weather is strange?

This island
is untotured.

Not once has the snow retained throughout the course of this season. The rivers and lakes have frozen over and it seems it shall only worsen as time goes on.

Apparently, having lost his Rhynas,
he also lost the ability to govern himself.

And those opportunist beings acted upon his weakness to do as they please.

My task is to take you there.

If you truly are so precious to that Dragon,

I'll leave
this tonight.

I'll never forgive you.

I know.
I'm powerless
to do anything about it.

But, even if my resentment doesn't affect you.

Ever.

...I see.
